The Bible not only reveals God's eternal plans purposes and promises
But also shows how you can know God for yourself.

Ecclesiastes 10.

(A brief overview of the main topics).

INTRODUCTION: Ecclesiastes is a brilliant book that gives an overall view of human life on earth viewed as a collective whole. Its primary focus is the vanity of life on earth without God. It is viewed as vanity because what happens to the fool happens to the wise the same events (i.e., troubles, sickness, disasters, sorrows etc.), and ultimately death comes to the rich and the poor, the noble and the lowly, the wise and the fool alike and life continues on as it always has. (See also the introduction to chapter one).

NOTE: for information of people, places and the meaning of words see Map Locations and People of the Bible, and Bible Dictionary on Website Menu.

This chapter is full is full of various proverbs about wisdom, work and kings but the primary focus is upon a fool, following are just a few.

Calming anger: calmness will lay great offences to rest and pacify and soothe anger.

The wise and foolish: a wise man's heart leads him to do right, but a fool's heart leads him astray.

Calmness and offenses: when the anger of a ruler rises against you, do not respond for calmness will lay great offenses to rest.

The power of words: the words of a wise man win him favour, but the lips of a fool consume him.

A fool and many words: a fool multiplies words of things that no one knows what is to be.

Work and the fool: the toil of a fool wearies him, because he does not know the wise way.

Foolish kings: the land will suffer when the king is a child (or foolish) and its princess feast during the day.

Wise kings: happy is the land when the king is the son of the nobility and its prince's feast at the proper time.

Laziness and idleness: through laziness the roof sinks in, and through idleness the house leaks.

Wine and money: wine gladdens life, and money answers everything.

Gossiping: even in your thought, do not curse the king, nor in your bedroom curse the rich, for a bird of the air will carry your voice and tell the matter.

End.
