Don't Yous Worries Missie, Eyes a Ben Talking to Da Lord.

When religious legalist leaders who had the authority over the temple were casting out of temple those they did not agree with, the LORD through Isaiah comforts those being cast out of the House of the God by telling them that it is those who are casting them out that the LORD will put to shame.

The following story beautifully explains what the LORD is saying to those being cast out of the temple:

Years ago, I watched a movie in which a godly Negro family had to relocate to a new town for work, after they had settled into their new home, the following Sunday the man's wife wanted to go to church, so they dressed appropriately and went to the closest church to their home. When they went to enter, they were coldly told, coloured people are not welcome in this church (hard to believe, but this is how it was not too long ago). As the couple walked home, the burly negro man comforting his upset and tearful wife, put his muscular black arm around her shoulders and in his broken English said, "Don't yous worries missie, eyes a ben talking to da Lord and he said, he can't get in to that church either"

As the founder of Bible House of Grace, I would like to thank the many Christian scholars, commentators and theologians who have gone before me, and the many today, who have freely made available their works to enhance the knowledge of the Bible to all people worldwide. It is only with the help of these faithful writers that much of Bible House of Grace exists as it does today.
