Although I believe my aim is pure and God's will perfect this document is still the product of a human man, as to such I neither claim perfect knowledge or perfect understanding.

Many gods in Heaven and on Earth.

The apostle Paul wrote: "Although there may be so-called gods in heaven or on earth—as indeed there are many gods and many lords" (1 Corinthians 8:5), do not mean that other gods exist, besides the Almighty Holy God of all creation. The 'many gods,' refers to gods that are created by the imagination, by a strong belief in them. The human nervous system does not have a mind of its own, and therefore automatically responds to whatever is pictured on the imagination of the mind, whether the picture is real or false. The stronger the belief the greater effect the mental image on the imagination of the mind will have on the human nervous system.

It matters not if the god an individual believes in is real or not the nervous system responds accordingly. If the god an individual believes in is a wrathful, vengeful, and judgmental god they will feel emotions of guilt and fear, in contrast to this, if the god an individual believes in is a god of love and compassion, they will feel emotions of love and comfort. The imaginary, but real images of the mind create an entity that affects the emotions and feelings through the human nervous system. These feelings convince those that believe in idols that there are evil gods and spirits, but these evil gods and spirits do not actually exist, they are an entity created by a false belief of the mind, but to the individual believing in them they are to them, very real entities.

Even though these gods are not real they do affect a person's emotions and behaviour according to the level of belief they are given. This is because the human nervous system does not have a brain of its own and therefore cannot tell the difference between a real image on the imagination of the mind or a fantasy one, and therefore responds to the image as though it is real. The image is given power by belief, the stronger the belief the greater the power the image has over the emotions and the greater influence over the mind, and the greater the effect on behaviour.

This, is why deception is so deceptive, and why Christian faith should be based upon the Scriptures of the Bible, and never upon on emotions. This does not mean emotions should be denied, God gave them to us to enjoy, especially in worship and praise. But it does mean emotions, feelings and excitements should never be what our faith is based upon.

The only foundation Christian faith should ever be based upon is God's word as recorded in the Bible, for it is only through reading the Bible that we learn who the one and only immortal, invisible, eternal God is, and discover His eternal will, plans and purposes for the world, the earth and for mankind's salvation that leads to eternal life.

As the founder of Bible House of Grace, I would like to thank the many Christian scholars, commentators and theologians who have gone before me, and the many today, who have freely made available their works to enhance the knowledge of the Bible to all people worldwide. It is only with the help of these faithful writers that much of Bible House of Grace exists as it does today.
