The Moon turned to Blood.

Scripture talks of the moon appearing as blood, instead of appearing with its usual brightness in the heavens, this phenomenon can be caused by any of the following:

- A volcano erupting, for its smoke often turns the moon to red.
- Smoke that usually precedes a massive bush fire
- An eclipse, which makes the moon appear red, as we see today.

The moon turning to blood can also signify the following:

1. Red is the colour of blood so the symbolism is most likely war, especially war with today's modern weapons of mass destruction.
2. But it could apply to any great calamity, since the change of the moon to red would be a natural symbol of distress, suffering, anguish, sorrow, grief, and trouble.

The moon has less light than the sun and as such signifies those who assist others in higher positions of authority and power. Many heathen religions worshipped the moon under various names.
