Although I believe my aim is pure and God's will perfect this document is still the product of a human man, as to such I neither claim perfect knowledge or perfect understanding.

How Readest Thou?

The Bible not only reveals God's eternal plans purposes and promises, but also shows how you can know God for yourself. It is one thing to read the Bible through, but another thing to learn and read and do.

- Some read it with desire to learn, but to their subject pay but little heed, while others read it as their duty every week, but no instruction from the Bible seek.
- Some read it with but little care, with no regard to how they read or where, while others read it as history, to know how people lived two thousand years ago.
- Some read to bring themselves into repute, by showing others how they can dispute, while others read because their neighbours do, to see how long it takes to read it through.
- Some read it for the wonders that are there, how David killed a lion and a bear, while others read it with uncommon care hoping to find some contradiction there.
- Some read as though it did not speak to them, but to the people at Jerusalem, while others read it as a book of mysteries and won't believe the very thing they see.
- Some read with their father's specs upon their head and see things just as their father said, while others read to prove a pre-adopted creed, but understand little as they read for every passage in the Book they bend and make it suit their own end.
- Some read to teach the Book, instead of being taught, while others read it right to teach themselves and change their life.

One thing I find and you may find it too the more you read, the more you find it true, but to find this, an open eye and often prayer, and humble heart are all needful. The one who reads with ego, pride and inattention will only find it causes dissension, while the one who reads with perception and discernment will find the joy of comfort, and salvation.
